Extension of Sign-Up Period for Participation in the Flue-Cured Tobacco 4-Leaf Program and Warehouse Designation - Because of the critical need for farmers to leave unharvested, the bottom stalk tobacco and the fact that many organizations plan to conduct a campaign to educate the farmers, it has become necessary to extend the sign-up period in the 4-Leaf Program. To avoid confusion the 4-Leaf sign-up period and the warehouse designation period have been extended concurrently through May 1 (the same final date for filing Lease and Transfer Agreements). This action has the support of industry leaders, farm organizations, and other persons concerned with the welfare of the program.

Corn, Sorghum Program Participants to Receive $265 Million Deficiency Payments - Farmers who complied with the 1978 Corn and Grain Sorghum Set-Aside Programs will receive $265 million nationally in deficiency payments.

Eligible producers will receive payments in the near future. Corn payments will amount to about $90 million nationally while about $175 million nationally will be paid to eligible grain sorghum producers. Appomattox County eligible producers will receive around $3,000.00 in corn payment and about $700.00 in Grain Sorghum Payments.

Deficiency payments are made to program participants when the national average market price for the first five months (Oct.-Feb.) of the marketing year falls below the government-established target price for the commodity. The payment rate is the lower of the difference between the target price and the five month average price or the national average loan rate.

For eligible 1978 corn acreage, the deficiency payment rate is 3 cents per bushel - the difference between the $2.10 target price and the $2.07 average market price. For grain sorghum, the deficiency payment rate is 33 cents a bushel - the difference the $2.28 per bushel target price and the $1.95 average market price.

The National Program Acreages (NPA) and program allocation factors for the two crops have been approved. The National Program Acreage for corn is 76.2 million acres and the grain sorghum NPA is 3.7 million acres.

Allocation factors, which are determined by dividing the crop's NPA by the number of harvested acres, are 97.1 percent for corn and 95.8 percent for sorghum. The allocation factor will be applied to program planted acreage on farms where producers did not reduce their 1978 corn and sorghum plantings by 5 percent from their 1977 planted acreage.

Wheat and Feed Grain Set-Aside Program - The April 30 deadline for signing up in the Wheat and Feed Grain Set-Aside program is just around the corner. According to our records there are still quite a few farmers in the county who have not been in to see about the program, and with the filing deadline so close it is absolutely imperative that a visit to the office is made in the near future. This applies to those farms with a Normal Crop Acreage (NCA) established.

Our records show that 71 farms are currently signedup. By being in the program these farms if in program compliance, will be eligible for disaster payments, deficiency payments and commodity loans. A farm with an NCA established must participate in the program in order to be eligible for the above benefits.

Program regulations are a 20 percent set-aside for barley and/or wheat planted for harvest as grain and a 10 percent set-aside for corn and or grain sorghum planted for harvest. Wheat farmers are eligible to agree to graze or hay a percentage of their wheat and receive a payment later on in the year if deficiency payment rate x the established x the grazed or hayed acreage. Corn and or grain sorghum farmers can agree to set-aside and additional 10 percent and be eligible for a payment equal to $1.00 x the established yield x the additional set-aside.

The set-aside land must be land that has been tilled in a crop other than hay on one of the last three years or land that is in a regular crop rational pattern could have been in hay and still be eligible as set-aside land.

The program has been established to help alleviate depressed grain prices that have been prevalent the last couple years. Although the program may not fit into all NCA farmers farming operations, it certainly does merit all NCA farmers consideration. It is designed to help increase the price of grain or yet maintain stable prices in order farming operations.

Grower Support Vital to Cooperative's Future - 1979 is a critical year for Stabilization, the grower's cooperative marketing association which makes price support loans to growers. Stabilizaton needs the cooperation of every grower this year in further efforts to resolve the downstalk problem satisfactory.

Since 1974, the cooperative has made loans to growers amounting to $197 million on 234 million pounds of downstalk tobacco (predominately "P" and "N" grades) from the 1974-1976 crops, inclusive. Less than 25 million pounds of this tobacco has been sold for the following reasons:

1. Supply has exceeded demand. Demand for "P" and "N" grades has declined, while production, in fact, has increased since 1974, with the exception of the 1978 crop.

2. Loan rates have been established at levels above true market value due to the statutory requirements built into the price support formula. The formula requires that the weighted average of all grade loan rates reflect the overall price support level for any given year. To lower "P" and "N" grade loan rates to a realistic level would require considerable more than normal increases in loan rates on upstalk grades of tobacco which would adversely affect the export market for U.S. flue-cured tobacco.

Even though loan rates on "P" and "N" grades have not been increased to carry their share of the overall increase called for in the formula growers are continuing to harvest and market "P" and "N" grades. Thus, the high loan rates, coupled with lower yields in processed strip tobacco result in much higher than normal costs and, therefore, make "P" and "N" grades of tobacco uneconomical from a buyer's standpoint.

3. Foreign-grown tobacco with comparable quality is available at a much lower price.

At the present time, Stabilization's stocks of downstalk tobacco amount to about a 2-year supply. Carrying costs, most of which is interest, amount to $1.5 million monthly. It is quite apparent that Stabilization can't continue to hold these tobaccos for an unreasonable length of time without sustaining significant losses. Further, it is apparent that losses would place the price support program in serious jeopardy.

Considerable progress was made in reducing the supply of "P" and "N" grades last year. Last year's efforts resulted in about 10% of Stablization's receipts being in "P" and "N" grades; however, this year efforts must be redoubled to further reduce the supply.

Growers can contribute significantly in solving this problem by participating in 1979 in the 4-Leaf program. In fact, growers can individually profit by participating in the program by substituting upstalk grades of tobacco with higher loan rates and higher market averages. Some studies indicate that growers can an additonal 30c per pound, which more than offsets the cost of planting the additonal acreage.

A 100% grower participation this year in the 4-leaf program would significantly assist Stabilization in moving old crop downstalk tobacco into trade channels. it would provide additional upstalk tobacco to fill orders of overseas customers, and it should provide growers with greater profits because of the improved quality of tobacco available for market.

The Board of Directors of Stabilization urges and appeals to every grower to cooperate and participate in the 4-leaf program this year.

Milk Support Price Increases from $9.64 to $10.51. The support price for producing grade milk recently increased from $9.64 to $10.51 per hundredweight.

The price of milk with an average milkfat content of 3.5 percent increased 9 percent, or 87 cents per hundredweight.

This action will help maintain present prices for dairy farmers and prevent prices from falling this spring when more milk becomes available.

The April 1st increase will have little immediate effect on consumer prices because market prices of milk and dairy products are either at or near the announced support level.

Effective April 1, the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) sales prices of dairy products for unrestricted use was 105 percent of CCC's current purchase prices. Resale prices through March 30 were 110 percent of the current purchase prices.
